

With You Now

Ellie Holcomb

When you are silent I will speak for you
What you cannot feel I will for you now
I'll feel you now
When your heart is full of this trouble
And when the night whispers your fears out loud
I'll be with you now
When the sunlight's missing your face
You're not sure how long these winds will blow
I'll be with you now
When you are tired from all that you carry
Your heart is heavy I will walk with you now
I'll walk with you now
When you are lonely I will be with you
You have to know that I will be with you now
I'll be with you now
When the sunlight's missing your face
You're not sure how long these winds will blow
I'll be with you now
When you sing your sad songs
I will learn the words and sing a long
And when you're in the valley
We will find the river running through
I'll hold on to you
When you are weary I will stand for you
Your knees are weak I'll stand for you
I'll stand with you now
And when you feel that no one can hear you
As everything you know comes crashing down
I hear you now
I'm with you now
I'll walk with you now
I'll be with you now