

Tethered

Elliot Minor

You took the last train, out of the city, to plan our great escape,
And theres a low cloud, where we've been living, and now were off to search for better days

For better days

When your walking through the cold, You shouldnt have to walk alone and know
Its dark but not so dark when we're together

We rode the last train, to where the world ends, stared into nothing and turn back, We heard the grass grow(can you hear the grass grow), We felt the sea change(can you feel the sea change), all to keep our hearts
under attack
Lalalala.....
Under attack..

When your walking through the cold, You shouldnt have to walk alone and know
Its dark, but not so dark when we're together,
When you need someone to hold, When you want someone to wake up on,
Im hanging by the line, that keeps you tethered
Its black, its black outside, My voice is sounding distant Im, Hang Hanging by the line, Im hanging by the line

When your walking through the cold, You shouldnt have to walk alone You know
Its dark, but not so dark when we're together,
When you need someone to hold, When you want someone to wake up on,
Im hanging by the line, that keeps you tethered

When your holding on tonight, When you've broken through you need more time
Im hanging by the line , that keeps you tethered
