

The Broken Minor

Elliot Minor

We've broken now,
We're fading out.
And you fall on your knees,
And stand defeat.
Just when it feels like it is freezing over.
Hold on, embrace, the symphony.

Lets play the very first line
It feels much better
And its all in time
It's coming together
When the drums come in
And the keys get louder
Now we're building a collision of noise

This time it's not tiny voices
Its a chorus of noise
We're surfing a sea of places
now now now were singing
a funfair of sound
pulled up from within
we fight through the broken minor woah woah woah we can't back down.

When you've been knocked down,
It's a bitter end.
Everyone stands up, you know,
You're last again.
The lights are fading, and we're still escaping.
The sea is white light.
The light then fills the skies.

Lets play the very first line
It feels much better
And its all in time
It's coming together
When the drums come in
And the keys get louder
Now we're building a collision of noise.

This time it's not tiny voices
Its a chorus of noise
We're surfing a sea of places
now now now were singing
A funfair of sound
We fight through the broken minor
Woah woah woah we can't back down.

Now is not the last time
I can't stay away
It's not the last time

Lets play the very first line
It feels much better
And its all in time
It's coming together

When the chores are progressing we wait for the ending

This time it's not tiny voices
Its a chorus of noise
We're surfing a sea of places
now now now were singing
a funfair of sound
we fight through the broken minor woah woah woah we can't back down...own
