

Land of Nobody

Eloy

We just leave the earth's ground
On the way to see the new star
We forget the past time
Released from our imperfection
Molecular illusion
Going on to confuse our minds
Born in a world of conflicts
We don't recognize ourselves

Then in the dying swarm here
We saw the sight
We saw the birth of a planet
We saw a world without sorrows
Without the eager, far as of mind as of money

We're walking through the land
And recognize we're back to the earth again

Creatures come from nowhere
And find somewhere our place
We want freedom, we want freedom for the world
Power to the people
And the righteous in the land
That's why we now in turn fight for them

We saw our world
Where love is around
We saw the people there
Living in the past
But they are happy
And they're laughing

They feel like their minds now
Where they built the sky above
There's a lot of happiness
Walls of conflicts going smash

Ahhhhh
Ahhhhh
Ahhah, ahhah, ahhah

I found the end of the dream, it's near
Crashing down my mind
Their reality is grey, with no hope and faith
I start a journey to inside, waking my first term
I'm just returning to my dream, where I'm coming from
