Amneris' Letter

Elton John

I'm sorry for everything I've said And for anything I forgot to say too When things get so complicated I stumble, at best, muddle through I wish that our lives could be simple I don't want the world, only you I wish I could tell you this face to face But there's never the time, never the place So this letter will have to do I love you