Where Have All The Good Times Gone?

Elton John

See the changes here on every street
As time goes marching to a different beat
Moving on into the restless age
As the kids today find their feet (Long enough to hold on)

Young enough to chase our dreams
We were captured by romantic things
Touched by love until it made us cry
How our hearts could fly without wings

Oh won't somebody tell me
Tell me where have all the good times gone
Say that you remember
Remember all those good old Four Tops songs
Won't somebody tell me
Where have all the good times gone

Stolen moments in the smoky room

Monday mornings that would come too soon

Crazy summers that would never end

When the time was spent loving you

(Yeah we had a good time)

Some things never seem to last Ain't it funny how we missed the past Love has changed but the clock still turns While the flame still burns for you

They've gone away Gone they've gone away Gone they've gone away They've gone away

It's hard enough to lose the game
And sad to see it played again
What makes you happy for a while
Is gonna make you smile through the rain

Won't you please tell me where have all the good times gone
