

The Circle Never Ends

Elusive

There's a lonely room I'm lost within and reasons fall in a black hole heart on a nowhere ride through the ruins of your love Come through your pain Come through your There's a storm in sight there's a long black cloud Where day turns to night I hear voices calling I got nowhere to hide and you are turning away Come through your pain Come through your pain Can't let it go I've seen your eyes
so many times like this before here comes the rain that never ends
can't let it go I've seen your eyes
so many times like this before
Here comes the rain that never ends can't let it go Come through your come through your pain come through your
The circle never ends
There's a storm inside unlocks the sadness and day turns to night And the voices call me got nowhere to hide and I am drowning again.
