

Possession

Elvenking

Carry on, everything's over stare at the dawn, as sky is covering clouds are darkening the horizon and our lives carry on, we can't stand this silence.

Holding on to a wicked sensation pounding strong, it's pure emotion How long does it last inside our living hearts? every beat, really loses away a part.

You carry my heart, you carry my dreams in your pain and it's part of me where the poet lives, no poetry can exist if there is no dream, you carry my heart.

[Chorus:]

hand in hand so far from here through the dark of night and through the leaves of fall
I am leaving you, as you carry my heart.

Carry on, I can't let you burn me up but you know that I can't resist no mere human can stand a fire not being consumed, I ask myself, you and me will be us?

You carry my heart, you carry my dreams
in your pain and it's part of me
where the poet lives, no poetry can exist
if there is no dream, you carry my heart.

[Chorus:]

You carry my heart, you carry my dreams
hand in hand so far from here
through the dark of night and through the leaves of fall
I am leaving you, as you carry my heart

Please allow me to deeply live this dream while the others all around still sleep she wrote fairytales of disobedience while the fire burned, possession of their souls

[Chorus:]

You carry my heart, you carry my dreams
hand in hand so far from here
through the dark of night and through the leaves of fall

Carry on.... everything's over
