

Baby Get Lost

Elysian Fields

Hold out for the day, you beg me to stay
How common of me
Not to rise above, and I try to deny
This gauzy reverie

Don't trust to forget, the love that is misled
I can't rely, perhaps I can't decide
For this train never arrives and all of my lines have been stolen

Baby get lost
We're more than you could ever imagine
Baby get lost

We'll force the earth and laugh as we crash in
How gravid the moon, on the cusp of the sea
Buttering me up for all that isn't mine
And how it petrifies

Baby get lost
We are more than you could ever imagine
Baby get lost

We'll force the earth and laugh as we crash in
