

Winter Kiss

Embodiment

Lobby lines, with stairs,
Rebuke the structure
A kiss on the hand,
Fades to God's will

And I would kill, to see your face (To see your face)
I would kill, to see your face (Kill to see your face)
I would kill, to see your face
To see you (Kill to see you)

Lady in red, watch your surroundings
I'm going out, on a limb

And I would kill, to see your face (To see your face)
And I would kill, to see your face
(Kill to see your face)
And I would kill, to see your face
To see you (Kill to see you)

Three weeks, of torture,
Brought me here

And I would kill, to see your face (To see your face)
And I would kill, to see your face
(Kill to see your face)
And I would kill, to see your face (To see your face)
To see you (Kill to see you)

Three weeks, of torture,
Brought me here

Pass the moons
Reject friendly envy
More on desire, than principal

I wish you were here (I wish you were here)
I wish you were here (I wish you were here)
I wish you were here (I wish you were here)