

Now You're Nobody

Embrace

So, something I was trying to stall
Made its way to you and you rush in like you always do
Hmm, everything I have is spent and I've got used to you home
Don't you let your mind play tricks on you

You don't have to do anything that's new
But seein' you try to, wins me back with no big heart attacks
It's all been one big act 'cause now you're nobody
I'll have you, I'll have it all
