

Charm Of The Wilderness

Embraze

I feel that I can't spread my wings today
Passing bells they are disturbing my mind
I feel that I do something wrong
It feels like pressing me again

I wanna sleep when my eyes are closed
Shades of colors are getting black

I flow free, I flow proud
I turned my eyes to the free winds
Still I lost everything I had

You grasped my nature
Years in your authority
Years go by, go by
No-one can do anything
I only keep my silence
Although you fk my nature

I flow free, I flow proud
I turned my eyes to the free winds
Still I lost everything I had

And today nature won't wake up
It's asleep today
Like a light of life has burned to the end

I flow free, I flow proud
I turned my eyes to the free winds
Still I lost everything I had
