Enough

Emeli Sandé

I would run, and drop it all make impossible seem easy
I can jump however high if it takes for you to see me
I'm all you ever needed, why won't you believe it
Cause I'd make you happy, I promise
Yeah, I could be anything you wanted

Sick in love dreaming of running out to Vegas.
We won't fight if you don't like anything I'll change it
I'm all you ever needed why wont you believe it
Cause I'd make you happy, I promise.
I could be anything you wanted.

So I can't give anymore, your love is impossible
Cause it's still not me dancing with you in the dark
See I can't give enough

No appetite, I'm up at night having trouble sleeping
Exhausted from, hanging on to someone who can't see me
My heart is tired of breaking, why won't you just take it Cause I could have anything you wanted, I could have been every thing you wanted.

So I can't give anymore your love is impossible
Cause it's still not me dancing with you in the dark
See I can't give

I gave it all, all of my parts are there on the table
Oh I done it all, got nothing left in me
But nothing is ever enough

I can't give anymore, your love is impossible
Cause it's still not me dancing with you in the dark
And I can't give enough

I can't give anymore, your love is impossible
Cause it's still not me dancing with you in the dark
See I can't give enough, enough, enough

See I can't give enough
