

Hand of Truth

Emerson, Lake & Palmer

Looking for something and I thought I'd found the key but I've changed my mind
Looking for something, I just could not let it be, now I find.

This world is not an easy rider, it's where the tigers walk
To see the light of heaven, you'll need the eyes of a hawk.

We have the power, we can make a change
There ain't no mistake, it's down to me and you
We have the power, we can make any change
Stop pretending we've got nothin' to lose.

We have the power, we can make a change
There's nothin' been done that we can't undo
We have the power, we can make a change
There's fire in the heavens, it's burning in the hand of truth.

Looking for something, I've got to find a new frontier and star t to climb
Looking for something, I've got to find another sphere, there's no more time.

We're standing on the ledge of madness, that's where the rocks are hurled
I hear the cry of freedom, we have the power to change the worl d.

We have the power, power.

We have the power, we can make a change
There ain't no mistake, it's down to me and you
We have the power, we can make any change
Stop pretending we've got nothin' to lose.

We have the power, we can make a change
There's nothin' been done that we can't undo
We have the power, we can make a change
There's fire in the mountains, it's burning in the hand of trut
