Emery

And my heart,
Left my chest,
So forgive me.
As you leave to find
That next something new

But I can't
For the life of me remember when
You changed your words from "I love you"
To saying, "you don't know"

Just know that you can't
Take back what you said
Darling, I'm not in the forgiving mood
You kept on replying, it was all in my head
Well you're just a liar, and I've got the proof
I've got the proof

So with these few words you'll erase me
Two years of our lives, meant nothing to you
But this fool, that you made of me has a lesson learned
You can't trust a lover, who was never a friend...

Just know that you can't
Take back what you said
Darling I'm not in the forgiving mood
You kept on replying, it was all in my head
Well you're just a liar, and I've got the proof
I've got the proof

I would have offered my life,
Taken you home, made you my wife,
But hearing you now,
Filling your mouth,
With the cowards lies,
You're just a disguise.
Of the girl of my dreams
But I know she's waiting for me

So I'll open my eyes,
To the day that's before me,
And leave here to find
That next something new
