

What Will I Remember?

Emilie Autumn

What will I remember?
What will I forget?
When this life is ending, and gone
What will I regret?
If tomorrow I don't wake up, what happens?
My sunrise, or sunset?

If I never were born
If I never died
Would it even matter at all?
What should I decide?
I always imagined I'd mean something to someone
If I won't, 'least I tried

When my body suffers
When to breathe is pain
Is it really madness to think...
Think of breaking this chain?
Is the future mine?
God knows I have a past
Where's my second chapter?
Or will the first also be my last?

Is my story over
If I fall asleep?
Would anybody find me?
And would anybody weep?
I can't even pretend I care
But songs I'll never sing...
Well that means something...
Yes, that means something...
