The Cycle

Emily Osment

You're riding up the elevator Shirt tucked in right No space Head case Up against the street lights This is your world walking high and mighty I got news for you and you ain't gonna like it A five second replay Yeah, this is what you look like You're so predictable Yeah, yeah... You're so typical You're so predictable Yeah, yeah... Dah dah dahdah dah dah dah dah Heavy breath Crooked heart Shoes tied Up straight Same old push and pull You got no time You can't be late This is your life Breaking teeth for smiles One for the game One just for the cycle Well, all those hours in the mirror The more you say I hope you hear You're so predictable Yeah, yeah... You're so typical You're so predictable Yeah, yeah... Dah dah dahdah dah dah dah dah Dah dah dahdah dah dah dah You're so predictable Yeah, yeah... You're so typical You're so predictable Yeah, yeah... Dah dah dahdah dah dah dah You're so predictable Yeah, yeah... You're so typical You're so predictable Yeah, yeah... Dah dah dahdah dah dah dah
