

Stereochrome

Emm Gryner

March on by like stardust in the sky
Brave or blinded I'm not sure which am I
Is the devil suit me or what would you tell me?
His whisper's gone but his soul keeps you alive

Jean sings Isabelle and we're still waking up
Dressing room disasters, if only I could give enough (Give enough)
Why can't I give enough to you?

Stereochrome
I guess this is hello
Can you hear me?
I'm thinking out loud and

I should have known as strange days they go
I would need you
And your love that keeps me calm
Why is that so wrong?

Stumble through the circus in the round
Lose the viewside blues somewhere downtown
Is the record player jamming for the hundreth time?
My whisper's gone but your soul keeps me alive

Joel sings "oh my soul" and we're still waking up
Purity will slowly kill you, if only I could measure up
Why can't I measure up to you?

Stereochrome
I guess this is hello
Can you hear me?
I'm thinking out loud and

I should have known as strange days they go
I would need you
And your love that keeps me calm

March on by like stardust in the sky
Brave or blinded I'm not sure which am I

Stereochrome
I guess this is hello
Can you hear me?
Thinking out loud

I should have known as strange days they go
I would need you
And the love that keeps me calm

Stereochrome
I guess this is hello
Can you hear me?
Thinking out loud

I should have known as strange days they go
I would need you
And your love that keeps me calm