

All That You'll Be

Emma Bunton

Autumn leaves turn to brown
Just like dreams get swept away
But spring always comes around
Until the first summer's day

And I hope there never comes a time
When life seems to pass you by
Cos you must realize

Cos everything in life will change
With every rainbow there is rain
Nothing stays the same
Years will pass and we will grow
One thing you'll always know
That I love you now for all the things you are
And all that you'll be

Even if we don't have it all
We have all that we need
You know I'll catch you when you fall
You start to doubt but you believe

The future is impossible to see
And no matter what we become
You'll be apart of me

Cos everything in life will change
With every rainbow there is rain
Nothing stays the same
Years will pass and we will grow
One thing you'll always know
That I love you now for all the things you are
And all that you'll be

You don't have to worry about a thing
We move in different ways
But we're still the same
And I will love all that you'll be

Cos everything in life will change
With every rainbow there is rain
Nothing stays the same
Years will pass and we will grow
One thing you'll always know
That I love you now for all the things you are
And for everything you'll become
Cos I love who you are
And all that you'll be
