

Change

Emmelie de Forest

Strolling down empty streets
Voices of the night are slowly fading
Had to come out to breathe
'Cause your love is taking over

I try not to lose my head
I feel my heart is caving in
And there is no one to save me

I can't change, change
I won't change, I'll always be running away
I can't change, change
And I'll never give in to you, I'll always be running away

Now I left you wondering
You've always been clinging to forever
A whisper inside of me
'Cause I don't belong to no one

I try not to lose my head
I feel my heart is caving in
And there is no one to save me

I can't change, change
I won't change, I'll always be running away
I can't change, change
I could never give in to you, I'll always be running away

'Cause I don't belong to no one
'Cause I don't belong to no one
'Cause I don't belong to no one

I try not to lose my head
I feel my heart is caving in
And there is no one to save me

I can't change, change
I won't change, I'll always be running away
I can't change, change
And I'll never give in to you, I'll always be running away

Always be running away
I'll always be running away, away
