

The Other Side of Life

Emmylou Harris

Praise God, I feel like singing
I'm on the other side of life now

All my days of sorrow and tears for my loved ones
I wish I could tell them the door that I feel
Though my body is weary my soul is uplifted
My sins are forgiven and my Jesus is real

Praise God, I feel like singing
I'm on the other side of life now

Though my eyes are dim I see heaven clearly
Though my voice grows feeble I sing just the same
In my heart there's a song as I see the gates open
I'll sing forever my joyous refrain

Praise God, I feel like singing
I'm on the other side of life now
Praise God, I feel like singing
I'm on the other side of life now
