

Life After Anger

Emphatic

I'm tired of feeling like you have a hold on me
I'm tired of feeling like I need to ask to breathe
I need a change I need to find a safer place somewhere far away so Ill forget your face but every time I try and go you always make me stay

I'm caught in the flames again
I need to find a way out of the danger to a life after anger
find a way out of the danger to a life after anger...

Theres been to many times theres been to many lies theres been to many reasons now for us to say goodbye you never change so I need to find a safer place somewhere far away so Ill forget your face

I'm caught in the flames again
I need to find a way out of the danger to a life after anger
find a way out of the danger to a life after anger

I'm tired of feeling like I need to ask to breathe...

I'm caught in the flames again
I need to find a way out of the danger to a life after anger
to a life after you... a life after you
