

The Choice

Emphatic

I can read your thoughts not your words and their killing me
I can feel the hurt through the lies and it's killing me Wake up
Your words paralyze
Wake up
Your trust will survive

Between two worlds
both wrong and right
the choice you make
will never divide

If today you got it right
and the emptiness you fight's finally ok
ok as reality fades
If tomorrow's got it wrong
we're not meant to be alone
Just not alright
alright as we die here tonight
'cause your throwin' it all away

Don't you wanna know why Won't you take off this disguise

Between two worlds
so black and white
The choice you make
will never divide
Open your eyes

If today you got it right
and the emptiness you fight's finally ok
ok as reality fades
If tomorrow's got it wrong
we're not meant to be alone
Just not alright
alright as we die here tonight
'cause your throwin' it all away
yeah

We must try Please just try
I can read your thoughts not your words and their killing me killing me, killing me
