

Breaking The Mirror

Empty Tremor

Walking through your life, you will realize That a path is never easy to find Seeking every day another way to justify The directions you have chosen

Working all the time on your best make-up to appear as if you are a spire to their eyes
Living off your lies, pretending everything is fine For you need a phrase to keep on

All that you're seeking, all you believe in Is an ideal, an impossible life
Hiding yourself behind an Utopia That's your decision, that's the direction To help yourself to survive in this world
Missing your days for someone else Not you!

Maybe you don't know what you're looking for Hanging from someone's design
Never had time to find out who you are Far too busy seeing what you want to believe

Feeling of redundancy in sense of life Where the mirror shows a perfect title
Everything you have achieved will fall as broken glass When you part from your reflection

All that you're seeking, all you believe in Is an ideal, an impossible life
Hiding yourself behind an Utopia That's your decision, that's the direction To help yourself to survive in this world
Missing your days for someone other Than you!

Save me, I have lost the key to read the feelings deep within me
I'm not so sure by my state of sanity Hear me, please don't leave me
Lord I need someone to believe in me Show me the way to go back inside of me

(What do you want now from us You used to be different We don't care - not anymore
Go and stray, we will say no more)