There's an aura around you I'm captivated by your eyes I can't believe that i've found you Why am I so starry eyed? I once lived with honor Followed codes of chivalry But I can't help but falter Under the spell of Annowree Oh- This love's not for real The emotions I feel Oh- stronger than tempered steel Can't you see how I feel? Where did you come from? What's your name? Is it all a game? You ignite men's hearts aflame To burn for you in vain Like a magnet you draw me Like a spider to the fly An empty heart is so easy To seduce and hipnotize Oh- is this my destiny? A lock whithout a key No- this nightmare is no dream Have I lost Reality? Where did I come from? What's my name? Nothing seems the same You ignite my heart aflame To burn for you in vain And the ones who let their hearts Rule their minds Will burn their bridges When they've crossed And leave the world behind... Leave it all behind No- this loves not for real The emotions I feel No- can I break this spell? Only time will tell
