Death Of The Weakender

End of Green

Since i see no sun seems there is no morning feel my old bones i'm so fed up with everything i stick to these guns they're pointing at me i got no place to move i've been so dead for long i'm miles away from home dead, i found you i'm miles away from home dead, i found you make no compromises see the weight that rises sacrifice the day before you gonna die baby, you can't stop me now make no compromise, see the pretty lies sacrifice the days you know you're going to die maybe you can't stop me now i have seen the sunset of fear too long i have been the one you forced to be strong
