

Final Resistance

End of Green

Here in my house down by the river that's where I hide, waiting in shivers here in my house live the saint and the killer Jekyll and Hyde, the rivers of liquor here in your house, down by my river tragedy flows, my aching liver here in my house down by the river
that's where I hide, waiting in shivers
I can break through the stair on the airway and heal my very last wounds I am the final resistance gimme one last chance with these tears in my eyes kill the beast I'm alive
you can break me in parts I'm going down with all shattering lies and the air burns tonight you can't break me in parts I'm gonna cut you down this is the last day in my life goodbye cruel world I am survived these are my last words, should scatter the skies me and the scars in the airways tonight
