Sleep

Enemy You

Light cuts every crack, to here you've brought me back Sun, please go away an let me stay, come back another day Day bleeds into night, night brings me the fight Beyond the hue and cry and cooled lights I shut my eyes For there I can be free Tonight I'll pray for sleep

Watching the ceiling under warmth these covers bring Rest, please help me find a place in mind with no worry, withou t time Time and hours creep, the world around me sleeps Beyond the hue and cry and colored lights I shut my eyes For there I can be free Tonight I'll pray for sleep

Stuck in automatic my mind is in a panic Everything is frantic but I'm feeling so static These thoughts unnerve me that nothing's what it should be Slumber's all that I need but sleep keeps eluding me
