

How To Win Your Love

Engelbert Humperdinck

Yesterday, when I saw you walk my way
You smiled at me,
You almost took my breath away

And now I know,
How I feel,
And now I know,
That this emptiness had healed

So tell me, how to win your love
Cause you're the one I'm dreaming of
Will the moment wait for me
Will I ever make you see
You're the only one

I can hear,
The sound of silence when you're near mmmmmmmm, Have no fear,
Cause I will dry your every tear

And now I know,
How I feel,
And now I know,
That this emptiness had healed

So tell me, how to win your love
Cause you're the one I'm dreaming of
Will the moment wait for me
Will I ever make you see
You're the only one

If you want me, if you want me
And if you need me
And if the moment ever comes
When you're lost and all alone
You will find me there, find me there, find me there

So tell me, how to win your love
Cause you're the one I'm dreaming of
Will the moment wait for me
Will I ever make you see
You're the only one, you are the only one,
You're the one I'm dreaming of, oh baby

Will the moment wait for me
Will I ever make you see
