

Maybe This Time

Engelbert Humperdinck

I give you love
you turn away
then wonder why it is nobody ever stays
you've have been hurt
but so's the world been hurt a million times before don't you close the door and maybe this time you'll find the other key that opens up another door and finds someone comes back for more
maybe this time
the cards will treat you right deal a little magic in the middle of some lonely night
maybe this time
this time

I always smile
act cavalier
but what i feel behind the smiles a little fear i'm just like you
nobody's fool
whenever someone gets to close i play it cool
but maybe this time
we'll find the other key that opens up another door and find someone comes back for more
maybe this time
this time

you turn to go but then you hesitate I wonder can I make you wait aren't we a pair
afraid to care
but maybe this time
that opens up another door and find someone comes back for more
maybe this time
the cards will treat us right deal a little magic in the middle of some lonely night
this time's for real
