Blind Man

English Dogs

Brainwashed at school, mass producen in a mould Ruled by the power before you grew old Brought, oppression and misery It only bring thoughts of revenge to me

Why must we suffer for a system's greed? Why must we obey? refuse a nd take heed Because there'so much money spent on war When the lower class masses are helpless poor

The blind man is led into a world we know is wrong Where the upper classes lords are ruling too strong The blind man is led into a world we know is wrong Where the upper classes lords are ruling too strong The blind man is led into a world he can't control Where people led like sheep can't accept the proper

That's the way the system is run today Birth, life, death, pain and misery Still no one can see that we're all being led To an option of painful death

We don't want your system it's all ruled by state We don't want your power in you plastic mould We don't need your presence we can die with you We don't have to take all the things you do
