

World war three is all the rage
Problem child of a nuclear age
Push button missiles on radio control
I don't wanna die before I get old
That's the crap we always hear
Doomsday's coming, almost here
Why not remember the last world war
I hope, for one, there'll be no more

Why doesn't anyone sing about world war two

Examples should be made of forty-five
When the people were lucky to survive
The hell all around for those sick years
Should be a constant reminder in all our fears
No-one sings about the last world war
'Cos modern poets can't remember any more
Modern Zombies with a one-track mind
Of world war three that will kill mankind
Why doesn't anyone sing about world war two

Why doesn't anyone sing about world war two
