

Sea Of Crutches

Enter The Haggis

When I wake up I'm not sure if I know where I am
But in a moment I remember I'm at home again
And it's not so bad
Faces blur and I just chase away the afternoon
I'm barely here because I know that I'll be leaving soon
And it's not so bad

But when I see you I come back again
In the crowd or just beyond the lights
And I can handle this insanity
For just one more night
Just give me one more night

I'm not sleeping but I don't know what I'm searching for
A friendly face or just a place I've never been before
And I'm barely here
Heads and shoulders and a sea of crutches unaware
That I am leaning 'cause they're leaning back and we're all scared
That we'll disappear
Anywhere
Anytime it could take another part of me
But maybe here
If I can find a way
It's just another day
Just another day

When I see you I come back again
In the crowd or just beyond the lights
And I can handle this insanity
This caught-on-camera life
The prying eyes don't bother me
Then I see you and I'm home again
On the screen or in the corner of my eye
And I can handle this insanity
For just one more night
Just give me one more night