Wreckage

Entombed

Say what? Well come again Do you think you can change it It's just a matter of time 'til it all will end I'm a wreck, and so are you We're all wrecked up I got a date with the devil and so do you

Will our bad luck even turn I doubt it man I think we're destined to burn alive, yeah We have lost But you refuse to realize it at all cost And the futures now Isn't that tomorrow? How can a man be so blind to see a wreck Is the only way. I'm a wreck!

Say what. Yeah, well come again Do you think you can change it? It's just a matter of time 'til it all will end I'm a wreck - and we're all dead We're all wrecked up I'll be rockin' and rollin' in hell instead!

So put on a smile and I'll light the ignition This is real time, it ain't cinemavision And yeah, the time's right now it will never be tomorrow So don't ask how I can fit six billion in my car Drive it off a cliff Go out like a dinosaur Here I am balanced on the edge And it makes me fucking scared!
