Open up to me And soon our worlds become one Spread your wings to me In time we end up high Better hide from myself, I wanna die I believe that it was wrong To fall into desire, So, we must crawl... Crawl away from the light We'll go in through the fire You spread your wings to me And now the world is all wrong Pleasures smile has turn to laughter Leaving me to scream Better hide from myself, I wanna die I believe that it was wrong To fall into desire, So, we must crawl... Crawl away from the light Better hide from myself, I wanna die
