Silence Is Killing Me

As I open my eyes for the new dawn I realize how lost we are Today's the day when we open the new door I think that I'm losing my mind So, release me now

Different ways we have in this life Our common life is far away from love

Our truth's made of lies This silence is killing me I believe I'm done

When you open your eyes for the new dawn I'll be gone and you now know how to live your life

Different ways we have in this life Our common life is far away from love

Our truth's made of lies This silence is killing me I believe I'm done

Our truth's made of lies This silence is killing me I believe I'm done

I think that I'm losing my mind so release me now Too many lies for my pride, so I say goodbye

Our truth's made of lies This silence is killing me I believe I'm done Our truth's made of lies This silence is killing me I believe I'm done Entwine
