

Believe In Love

Enuff Z'Nuff

Believe In Love I love Sunday mornings,
All wrapped up in Spring-time.
Hangin' from a thread,
Barrel to your head.
You can make it alright,
If you can make it into bed.
But you've got to believe in love,
So your heart can melt away.
And I know you'll have it all someday.
You've got to believe in love.

I've got something for ya',
Drink it down like water.
If you hate it from the start,
Let it savor in your heart.
You can take a little home,
You can take it apart.

You've got to believe in love.
When you've got to rise above.
You've got to believe in love...

I love pretty colors,
Chase 'em 'round like rainbows.
If you need someone to hold,
Your mother should have told ya'.
There ain't nothing wrong
With taking back what they've stole.

But you've got to believe in love,
Or your heart will melt away.
And I know you'll have it all someday.
You've got to believe in love.

Oh, in love.
You've got to believe in love.
Believe in love...
You've got it all if you believe in love. (7X)
You've gotta gotta gotta believe in love.
I love pretty colors.
