

Break Free

Eowyn

Have you ever wondered
Who you and what you'd be
And never really cared
When you look around you see
Yourself alone and that you helplessly aware
Your in chains that you bound yourself to Chained to a world you thought could satisfy you

Break free
From this world of lies
Break free
From the battles that rage in your mind
Break free
From the veils that are making you blind

You've gotta break free x4

Were you ever bothered
By things you come to be
And simply walked away
Every time you get up in the mirror
All you see is your the one to blame
You can't help but to question the truth
Ensnared in pain the circles all around you

You've gotta break free x4
You've gotta walk away
From all the things you chose to be
Open your heart and you will see
That when you let Him
And lay it all before His feet
All chains will fall and soon you will break free

You've gotta break free
You know you've gotta walk away
From all the things your are
And everything you chose to be
You gotta give it to the LORD
And open up your heart
And than you will be see
That when you let Him in
And lay it all before His feet
All chains will fall and
Soon you will break free
