

Catalyst

Epidemic

Numb and void
You're beating me senseless
With your spite
And your premature midlife crisis

Fake your sincerity, watered down
Save your self-image and stain
Look at you now
Look at you now

When I rise
You act as if I'm sinking
You spreading out these lies
Sad to see that you're still clinging

And you fake your sincerity, watered down
Save your self-image and stain
Look at you now
Look at you now

What is missing?
I never took away, but if you had it
You'd trade it in
You'd trade it in

More than I allow
Is spewing out of me
When I take you down
Deep alone

Fake your sincerity, watered down
Save your self-image and stain
Look at you now
Look at you now