

Living Fortress

Epysode

Silhouettes of ghosts are fading away
Illusions haunt me in my dreams
I'm sure it will soon be too late
The chains I'm in won't break anymore
Out of consciousness
We are leading this living fortress
I am still alive
Trying not to run and hide
But searching for the light
For so long I've been blind
Fearing to face and die
Losing this sacred fight
Monsters are coming in like a poison in my veins
Bleeding me dry... They are calling me, calling you
Out of consciousness
We are leading this living fortress

Out of consciousness
We are leading this living fortress
