

On The Other Side

Equirhodont

When I am born somewhere once more.

They say there is nothing!
There, on the other side!
They say there is nobody!
There, on the other side!

But We are living there!
There, on the other side.
Nobody knows that We are there!
There, on the other side.

I created a nation I called Kargerus. It was my initial work and what was its fate you must know, because Dwarves spoke a lot about it. I wasted plenty of Time by my fighting against Other Forces, despite Time have never played an important role in my Being. But I missed it. You'll never get rid of Other Forces anyway. They are here, because We are here as well.
