When A Lover Leaves You

Erasure

What a situation Senses gone and left me Lies are like confetti on the floor

Words are leading nowhere Delicate and tender Tender hooks that drive me to despair

Storms are blowing Winds are calling to me

Be my escape
My reward
It is you I adore
See me through
Where there are demons
I see angels passing by
The morning after nights before
I have tried

When a lover leaves you Cuts you without knowing The world just falls apart beneath your feet

Talk is cheap and useless Nothing but excuses Lies are like confetti in my hands

Storms are blowing Winds are calling to me

Be my escape
My reward
It is you I adore
See me through
Where there are demons
I see angels passing by
The morning after nights before
I have tried

Be my escape
My reward
It is you I adore
See me through
Where there are demons
I see angels passing by
The morning after nights before
I have tried

Where there are demons
I see angels passing by
The morning after nights before
I have tried
Where there are demons
I see angels passing by
The morning after nights before
