

Never Be Together

Eric Bellinger

You said all you needed was some part time love
You said I would never be the only one
And that was good with me
Why you think I stayed around
You said you and your man was tryna make things right
And that's why I would always be the nigga on the side
That's what you said to me
Look who's tryna wife me now

Girl you know you ain't right
All of a sudden you wanna change up your mind
It was all good until we turned off the lights
And you opened your legs, and you let me inside
Now you sprung
You said you wan't trippin' now look at you, you sprung
You was actin' hard at first, guess that was a front
I remember yes that we was just havin' fun
Just having fun

When we hooked up, when we sat down
We made an agreement, and vowed that
That we'd never, be together
(That we'd never be together)

When we hooked up, when we sat down
We made an agreement, and vowed that
That we'd never, be together
(That we'd never be together)

Hol' up girl you knew what it was Back then when we started off
I remember you said it wouldn't be hard at all
Maybe that was just the alcohol, talkin' to me
We had a couple drinks, and a few sake bombs
Didn't I want you girl, told you my shit was bomb
I know, I did, but you wasn't ready
Put it on you now you can't forget it
Every time you be with your man
You be thinking 'bout me and the way I hit it
I ain't even mad I'm just tryna remind you
That we agreed we wouldn't cross that line

Girl you know you ain't right
All of a sudden you wanna change up your mind
It was all good until we turned off the lights
And you opened your legs, and you let me inside
Now you sprung
You said you wan't trippin' now look at you, you sprung
You was actin' hard at first, guess that was a front
I remember yes that we was just havin' fun
Just having fun

When we hooked up, when we sat down
We made an agreement, and vowed that
That we'd never, be together
(That we'd never be together)

When we hooked up, when we sat down
We made an agreement, and vowed that
That we'd never, be together
(That we'd never be together)
