Everything

Eric Carmen

You just strap on that guitar And you can make yourself a star And look at everything With a jaded nonchalance You've got money, you've got fame You've got coast-to-coast acclaim You've got everything That a man could ever want Everything