

Somethin' From Nothin'

Eric Martin

I was tripping through the madness
With a guidebook in my hand
Crossing all the burning bridges
In this hard forsaken land
There's asylum in the ashes
Where the sparkle angels dance
Something from nothing
Baby that's what love can do
Something from nothing
Fill the hole inside of you
Does the longing make you wonder?
Does the game seem so surreal?
No one expects the perfect stranger
Who has nothing to conceal
Stealing beauty from the moment
That's where the poetry's revealed
Something from nothing
Baby that's what love can do
Something from nothing
Fill the hole inside of you
Love is surprising
Like finding pearls inside a shell
I was lost and somehow I found you
