

Something There

Eric Martin

Is it me? Is she staring?
There's gotta be some other attraction?
She looks away, am I daring
Enough to suck it up and go over and say hello?

Adrenaline is creepin' in and
I'm on the spot, the lights are getting louder

I don't know if there's something there
That's not all in my head
And it's in the air
There's something there that I can't touch on yet
I might be kicking myself
But there's something there
There's something there that's not all in my head

Is she for real? Or maybe twisted?
What should I do if she bites my head off?
I can't decide pulling daisies
"She loves me, loves me not"
Like I'm driving me crazy

Adrenaline is creepin' in and
My blood is up, it must be getting obvious

I'm just a sucker for a pretty face
I'm stupid, I can't help it
It's harder that leap of faith
That got me in trouble
The last time this happened...
