

Sleep Walking

Erin McCarley

Turn the corner, too familiar
Turn around into your past
Ohh

You hide and seek the same addiction,
Hope you find the better one of the last
Ohh

You're sleepwalking through your big bed of lies
Wish on up your new star every night - Oh yeah
I see you're at it again, sittin' on your hands
Waitin' around for the wind to change direction - Oh yeah
There you go again
Stuck in your head, havin' a ball in you're fully optimistic way
So off with your masquerade

Mmmm

All the people look so happy, safe beneath their plastic skin -
Ohh
Get a rise from another's tragedy, but tip-toe so nobody can get in - Ohh

You're sweet-talking through you're big bed of lies
Wish on up your new star every night - oh yeah
I see you're at it again, sittin' on your hands
Waitin' around for the wind to change direction - Ohh
There you go again
Stuck in your head, havin' a ball in you're fully optimistic way
y

Oh, doubt in you, you suffocate in your feather sleep
You twist inside your hollow eyes when the mirror speaks

I see you're at it again, sittin' on your hands
Waitin' around for the wind to change direction - Oh yeah yeah
yeah
There you go again
Stuck in your head, havin' ball in you're fully optimistic way
- yeah

I see you're at it again, sittin' on your hands
Waitin' around for the wind to change direction - Ohh
There you go again
Stuck in your head, havin' a ball in you're fully optimistic way
y
So off with your masquerade
