Breaking Me Down

Escape the Fate

You used to be so fearless
You used to be so strong
What ever happened to the one that could do no wrong?
How did you get so careless?
How did you get so numb?
Are you the only liar, running from

I wish that I could hate you
I wish that I could start by cutting you out
Cause when I look in your eye
I know I'm watching you drown

I wish that I could save you
I wish that I could start by cutting you out
Cause when I look in your eyes
I know deep inside
They're holding you up,
Holding you up is breaking me down

You don't gotta be perfect
You're not too far gone
But if you can't help yourself
Then you won't move on
The world's not out of focus
It's just what you've become
Don't you see you're the liar, running from

I wish that I could hate you
I wish that I could start by cutting you out
Cause when I look in your eye
I know I'm watching you drown

I wish that I could save you
I wish that I could start by cutting you out
Cause when I look in your eyes
I know deep inside
They're holding you up,
Holding you up is breaking me down

I wish that I could hate you
I wish that I could start by cutting you out
Cause when I look in your eye
I know I'm watching you drown

I wish that I could save you
I wish that I could start by cutting you out
Cause when I look in your eyes
I know deep inside
They're holding you up,
Holding you up is breaking me down
