

I Won't Break

Escape the Fate

This is a motherfucking battleground.
(This is a motherfucking battleground)

I think you've made a mistake.
You think you've won by kicking mud in my face.
What did you think it would change?
Whether I'm here or I'm gone.
You're still a joke, a hypocrite, you are a fake.

Why can't you understand?

You left me out in the pouring rain.
But the water only heals me faster.
I am the one you never will erase.
You better learn my name because
I won't break.

Break, break, break
I won't break.

I guess I'll take all the blame.
You never swallowed such a bitter pill.
You always were a baby anyway.
It's always the same.
You'll be crying in your corner,
For what seems like an eternity.

Why can't you understand?
Why can't you understand?!

You left me out in the pouring rain.
But the water only heals me faster.
I am the one you never will erase.
You better learn my name because
I won't break.

You're never gonna win this game.
So fade away without telling your master.
I am the one you never will erase.
You better learn my name because
I won't break.

This is a motherfucking battleground!
Walking towards the fight, so let's make a sound, like!
March, march, march, through the night!
This is a revolution, bring on the fight!

You left me out in the pouring rain.
But the water only heals me faster.
I am the one you never will erase.
You better learn my name because
I won't break.

You're never gonna win this game.
So fade away without telling your master.

I am the one you never will erase.
You better learn my name because
I won't break.

I won't break.

I won't break.
