

Itch

Eskimo Joe

You've got a terrible itch
I find it hard to scratch
And I could be a ragged claw but still it wouldn't hold you back
And you've got a fascination
With never hanging round
And I could be a heavyweight but still it wouldn't hold you down

You're never alone (Watching you now, watching you now)
You're never alone (Watching you now, watching you now)

But you've been hanging around, downtown
While you're playing around, baby
Wherever you go, you know, I'll be
Watching you now, watching you now

You've got a terrible itch
You scratch till you bled
And even if you're innocent baby, you're hands are still painted red

And now you're never alone (Watching you now, watching you now)
You're never alone (Watching you now, watching you now)

But you've been hanging around, downtown
While you're playing around, baby
Wherever you go, you know, I'll be
Watching you now, watching you now
Hanging around, downtown
While you're playing around, baby
Wherever you go, you know, I'll be
Watching you now, watching you now

You're never alone (Watching you now, watching you now)
You're never alone (Watching you now, watching you now)

But you've been hanging around, downtown
While you're playing around, baby
Wherever you go, you know, I'll be
Watching you now, watching you now
Hanging around, downtown
While you're playing around, baby
Wherever you go, you know, I'll be
Watching you now, watching you now
